Oyler

The Oyler family, at least our branch has roots reaching back to the Palatanes in Germany, back to the 1600's and beyond.

Our known and documented history is traced to Conrad Oyler who came to Philadelphia in September of 1729 on a small ship with the Church of the Brethren, or Old Order of German Baptist, sometimes called Dunkards . He was born about 1690, somewhere near Maar near Lauterback in the state of Hessen in Germany. He had two sons and 4 daughters.

There is a variety of ways Oyler was spelled, whether changed by the folks at Ellis Island or in the translation from German to English. It is believed that a variety of last names such as Oiler, Oyler, Iller, Eiler, Eular....the list goes on and on, that these are all members of the Oyler family. They live all over the U.S. and into the world beyond. Conrad spelled his name Iller, and Oellen, or perhaps it was spelled for him on numerous documents. Conrad died in York Co. Pa. in 1751. His two sons Jacob born 1718, and Valentine 1722, both married in York Co and had several children between them.

From Conrad the history is documented in the lineage I have posted here. I have not found alot of stories on them so you will forgive me if I jump ahead.

7929 "LO"

Daniel Oyler was born in 1806 in Chambersburg Pa. He was a blacksmith according to the 1850 Census. He was born in Pa. His wife Catherine, born also in Pa. in 1816. They married in 1838 in Pa. . They are both buried in Hardin County, Ohio. Their children were William b.1840, Cornelius b.1843, Mary b.1846, Jacob b.1846, and Bruce b.1852. Daniel and Catherine are both buried in Hardin Co, Ohio, his death listed as 22 June 1886, I have no death date for her. But a census taken after his death still lists her in Hardin Co.

Jacob Oyler was born and grew up in Pennsylvania, but when he and his family moved to Hardin County Ohio is unclear. His Parents are buried there, he was married there, and joined the army during the final days of the Civil War with other Hardin County boys. He fought at Ferrysburg, Va. and it was there during the final days of the war when during an skirmish with Jubal Early and the Confederate Army his company was forced to retreat back across the Patomic River. He caught a bad cold that settled in his eyes.

When he returned home after the Civil War he was forced to spend almost a year in bed with curtains drawn, the light caused violent pain. He then resumed his work as a Blacksmith, only to have to reenlist in order to try to obtain medical treatment. He was discharged after a month, and the military approved a full pension and medical care. It seems the flames of the blacksmiths shop fire caused such pain in his eyes that he never again worked as a blacksmith.

He married Wealthy Irwin, b: 19 August 1843 in Ohio, October 22, 1868 in Hardin Co., Ohio. It was after this he was given a settlement from the military and it was with this money he bought the land in Whitehall, Michigan that was until his death the family Farm. They raised onions, and later when my family lived there, you could still smell the wild onions after the mowing was done in the summers. It is thought they divided their time between Ohio and Michigan.

He eventually had the eye removed, in his pension papers it states that it was shriveled and had been blinded (their words not mine) for many years. He recieved $10 a month in 1865, and at the time of his death in 1916 he recieved $50 per month.

Wealthy and Jacob had 4 children, Clyde Lindley Oyler Sr. b: 17 October 1869 in Hardin Co., Ohio, James Finley Oyler b: 16 June 1872 in Hardin Co., Ohio, Charles S Oyler b: 15 April 1878 in Whitehall, Mi., Jessie B Oyler b: 22 September 1882 in Whitehall, Mi..

Jacob was quite a character by all accounts. He would go to town to the post office and collect his pension check, stop at the local tavern, and then at the end of the evening they would put him in his buggy and the horse knew its way home. My Aunt Anne told me that her brothers had told her when the horse was in front of the barn they knew Grampa was home, because Gramma wouldn't let him in the house when he had been drinking. So the boys would go out and unhitch the horse, and wake grampa up for breakfast. At one time he was the township constable, and he also had a horse named Prize that was a Dan Pacer and won races all over the county.

His wife died in December 1906. He and his son "Fin" [1]lived at the farm, until Jacob went to live with his daughter Jessie and husband Lyle Dennis in Montague, Michigan, and later in Detroit. He was killed in 1916, in Detroit, when he was run over by a Trolley Car. Jacob, Wealthy, a grandson Lyle Dennis, son Finley, and my father Charles Oyler are all buried in the Fruitland Township Cemetary family plot, less than a mile from the old farm.

The farm passed to sons Clyde and Finley. Clyde also had a home in Hardin Co. Ohio. Fin remained a bachlor all of his life. Charles had a farm a few miles away in what is now North Muskegon, and where his desendents still live. Jessie's husband Lyle was a policeman in Detroit. Fin died in 1943.

Clyde married Lenna Dell Shadley, b: 25 September 1869, on 12 January 1891 in Hardin Co., Ohio. My Aunt Ann also told me this story. It seems Clyde and his Friend Bill Irwin were working for the Railroad, building what was known as the McGuffy line. They went into town to a church dance and there they met Lenna and her sister Netty. Two weeks later the couples were married. I have Lenna's mothers bible, and have traced her line of Shadley back to Aasaph who fought in the revolutionary war. His old log home still stands in Hardin county, or so I am told by a friend at the Hardin County Historical Society. I will add the pages from the bible here one day, as well as a Shadley history.

Clyde and Lenna had 8 children (1) Goldie Blossom Oyler b: 25 September 1891 in Whitehall, Michigan, (2) Otto Ivan Oyler b: 06 July 1893 in Whitehall, Mi. d: 26 June 1988 in Canal Fulton, Ohio, (3) Chester VanBuran Oyler b: 1895, (4) Mardell Oyler b: 1897 in Hardin Co., Ohio d: 1897 in Hardin Co., Ohio, (5) William Edison Oyler b: 21 March 1899 in Whitehall, Mi, (6) Russell Jacob Oyler b: 22 March 1901 in Muskegon, Mi. d: 07 November 1951 in Canton, Ohio, (7) Clyde Lindley Oyler Jr. b: 17 March 1903 in Hardin Co., Ohio d: 20 June 1921 in Hardin Co., Ohio (8) Ann O. Oyler b: 02 April 1905 in Hardin Co., Ohio d: April 1992 in Oceanside, Cal.

Lenna and Clyde farmed the land Jacob had bought all those years before. They devided their time between the farm in Michigan and their home in Alger Ohio. Lenna lived long enough to celebrate her 104th birthday before her death in 1973. I remember going to Gramma's, the woman could really pinch your cheek. And even now I can picture her in her bed in the nursing home, she was pretty alert. And she could sure curse the nurses. Clyde I am told was out on his tractor, felt weak, got down and sat under a tree and died 13 May 1948 on the Oyler farm in Whitehall, Mi.. Years later when the land was being cleared, first for a air strip, and later for a golf course, my Grampa Ott refused to cut that tree down.

Their son Otto was my grandfather. He quit school in the 8th grade and a few years later when he was 16 he lied about his age to get a job at Continental Motors. He never went back to the farm to work the land his parents and grandparents farmed. He married Edna Cecile Austin b: 1899 in Herrod, Ohio d: 03 October 1927 in Stark Co., Ohio m: Abt 1916 in Lima, Ohio. they had three children, Wendell Oyler b: 24 August 1918 in Lima, Ohio d: 30 July 1998 in Winston-Salem, N.C., 8 Charles Albert Oyler b: 28 November 1921 in Canton, Ohio d: 25 December 1981 in Whitehall, Mi. , Baby Boy Oyler b: 1925 d: 1925 . Edna had Polio, and complications from that later caused the death of their third son shortly after birth, as well as her own in 1927. Otto remarried Twila Virginia Baer b: 24 March 1899 in Ohio d: 18 April 1997 in Canton, Ohio.

He owned and operated three trucking lines, designed and built, owned and operated a golf course in Ohio, and also a combined steel warehouse and truck depot. In 1963 he decided to fix up the family farm as a summer home for the family, at that time 5 generations were still living, his mother included. [2]In July of 1965 his mother Lenna, then 98, flew to Michigan to celebrate Ott's birthday and see what he had done with the old farm.

He razed the old family farm house and built a new home where the barn had stood. He turned the old silo into a control tower for a landing strip he was building for the commute between Ohio and Michigan by private plane. Later he founded Flight Enterprises Inc. to sell Piper aircraft, and lease planes he owned. Later he simply used it as a summer home.

In 1969 he asked his son Charles, my father, to move to Michigan and build a golf course. He quickly agreed after a family vote. The land had been in the Oyler family first as a working Farm, later as a airport, then as a golf course. It was only Natural that the Golf Course be named "Oyler Golfport". In took time to clear the now overgrown land and to layout what was to become an 18 hole golf course. And there on the family land another generation of Oylers grew up.

The course stayed in the family till after my fathers death on December 25, 1981 of Colon Cancer. In 1984 my mother sold the golf course and built a home across the street. In 1997 the house and [3]tower were razed to make way for a driving range. It is always quite a shock to look and not see the house and tower standing there.

I will add to this from time to time as the history of this family unfolds.

See if I am online

The reunion

Glad to see you dropped by, grab a cup of coffee, put your feet up and get comfy. I am trying to make this page better, easier to navigate, and add more things of interest, not only to my family, but to my friends as well. Feel free to email suggestions. If your new to the internet click on underlined words to see pictues, pages ect.

We have had a terriffic year in this branch of the Oyler Family. The blessings are many, the woes few. We have added some new members to our family, found some who were "lost", and anticipate the addition of a few more. My sister Shari taught me her pastors favorite saying, "God is rarely early.....but he is never late". Never was that as true as it has been for my family this year.

I have four kids that are all grown up. Daniel is my birth child whom I met again just a couple of weeks ago. He is 27 and a web page designer. He is married with two children, Charlie and Cooper who I hope will allow me to be their friend, and he has quickly become the child of my heart. He is sunshine and magic. His wife Sally and I are becoming fast friends. This is an amazing time getting to know him. The 2nd oldest is Dallas, 22, He is a Finance Manager for a Ford Dealer in Kalamazoo. He is a scratch golfer, a nice man, and a real joy to his mother. Jamie 21, is a stay at home mom to my grandson, Anthony James (Tony) who is three. They are the best part of getting up everyday. Then there is Stormie, she is our youngest at 20 and really quite the pistol. She is a Funding Manager. She has been working in the car business since she was 16 and plans to own one before she is 30. Their Dad, Daryl, and I have a varied and long history together. Married 19 years, divorced/separated for 2 years and back together now for 4. I am a firm believer in "if it ain't broke don't fix it" so no, as of yet no plans to remarry. Maybe one day.

My Mom Audrey, is mom to six, gramma to 16, and great gramma to 6 3/4. I will try to update you on them. Chuck is married and lives in Amarillo, Texas. He has a daughter Amy in Ohio who is planning a June wedding. His daughter Brandy lives here in Michigan and has a baby daughter, Darienne. My brother Steve died almost 20 years ago in 1980. Hi daughters Tori and Stephanie had a double wedding. Tori and husband Matt live in Huntington Beach, California. Stephanie and husband Pat have just moved back to Michigan with their baby daughter, Taylor. What a cutie she is !! Sister Char has been married 29 years to my very favorite big brother Roger. My grandson Tony says Uncle Roger can fix anything !!! They have three children. Jason got married in 1997. His wife Stephanie is expecting a baby in late November, and they recently bought a new home. The nursery is all done I am told and awaiting little Hunter or Samantha. I am counting the days till we get to hold a new baby. Daughter Erin is in cosmetology school and working hard on outdoing the legend ..... no way Erin. Joey graduated from high school in June and trying to figure out who he will be when he grows up. At the moment he is a cowboy, working on a horse farm. Twin sister Shari (Char's twin) is married to one of my other favorite men, Bruce. They have a gorgeous home on the shores of White lake. They are usually the hosts of our family gatherings. They know how to throw a Party. Their daughter Kristy got married Sept. 25th to Mike. What a beautiful Bride !!!! She works for a lawyer. Check out her house. Son Tracy is recently engaged to a wonderful girl named Shan. Although he has not asked our approval, we all love her dearly. They recently built a new home, and are planning an August wedding. Jeremy, their youngest is in the coke business (works for Coca-Cola), and is sowing his wild oats. Jeff is single, and has two daughters, Tiffany and Holly who are both in junior high. we know what that means TEENAGERS ..... YUKKKKKK !!!!! Well that's pretty much where we all are. How blessed I truly am in the abundance of people I love being close by. The blessings are many, the woes few.

Below will be all the links you could ever want, to family pictures, genealogy sources, poetry, and soon family recipes, and a picture of Nic, my favorite almost niece. ect. ect. Dear Morgan,

I hope the enclosed check will help to cover some of your mailing cost.

I've marked my pedigree chart with some minor corrections and one major item. I also think I'm the source of the wrong information regarding the parents of Margaret Anna Harbaugh. My orginal data came from "Moravian Families of Graceham, MD" which says she is the daughter of George Harbaugh and Catharine Willar. Problem is this gives him 8 children instead of 7 and also 2 daughters named Margaret.

The "Harbaugh History" book shows she is the daughter of Ludwig Harbaugh, brother of George. I've tried to confirm this with several Harbaugh people and they believe their book is correct, so I have changed my records accordingly.

Sounds like you had some very busy but nice trips in the last few months. If you are coming through northern Ohio we would love to have you stop for a visit.

I've been busy with golf, fishing, woodworking genealogy and singing. About 6 month ago I joined the Canton, Ohio mens chorus, about 60 men. Our last concert was at

THE KENNEDY CENTER IN WASHINGTON, DC.
IT WAS A FUN TRIP.
ALICE JOINS ME IN WISHING YOU ALL THE BEST.

PS. SOMETIME WHEN IT IS CONVENIENT
I WOULD LIKE TO GET A COMPUTER DISC
OF YOUR EYLER-ILER. ETC DATA.

*Burials at Graceham Church, Md., and in these records may be found concerning David: "He was quiet and obedient to his parents." We quote the following for the interest of any descendants:

Geo. Herbach, B. Feb. 20, 1726 at Geistweyler bey Keysers Lautern in der Pfaetz; came to America in 1738. First communed at Lancaster, May 18, 1752. Moved from here to Monscacy, April 29, 1754. Married, Oct. 4, 1746, the widow Catherine Bender, nee Willard at Creis (Crice) Crick. Shee came to America 1746. (Herbach, Moravian Archives, York Hist. Society.)

Rev. Henry Harbaugh said of him—he was a man of remarkable large proportions. He was not only very corpulent, but also of unusual height, amounting to almost a giant.

He removed to Harbaugh Valley sometime about 1760, in the region later called Hauvers District. When he came to the Valley, there was not yet a road in existence from the lower outlet of the valley up through it, only a path. They had to unload their effects, and leave their wagons at the eastern end of the valley; and make arrangements to convey their effects to the place of destination in some other way—no doubt on sleds, and perhaps on pack horses.

Frederick,	*Feb. 18, 1791-	See 752

*All these data from the Graceham Church records in the York Hist. Society, from which we quote the following verbatim—

John George, eldest son of George and Catherine (Williar) Harbaugh married first Nov. 27, 1770, Elizabeth Benkele, born Dec. 19, 1749 and died Jan. 23, 1780 Her body was brought through the deep snow on a sled to the church for burial. The children were, John George, born Nov. 11, 1771; John Jacob, born, Dec. 25, 1773; Elizabeth, born Oct. 19, 1775; John, born Mar. 21, 1778 and an infant daughter born Jan. 10, 1780 and buried in the garden the same day by the mother herself.

From the 1856 Annals, page 32, we quote the following—He lived for some time on the old homestead. Afterwards he removed to Bedford Co., Pa., and on one occasion, coming to the Valley on a visit, he took sick and died on his way home.

1486. LUDWIG HARBAUGH, 2315. Harbaugh Valley, Md.

B-1727. D-Aug. 9, 1809, age 82. He—Ledwich Harbouck—saw 28 days actual service in Capt. Peter Bainbridge's Co. Md. militia in the French and Indian Wars, 1757-1778, Md. Hist. Mag. 9: 354. In Apr. 1776, he was a non-enroller or non-associator and was fined. Md. Hist. Mag. 11:253.

Rev. Henry Harbaugh thought that Ludwig left York County shortly after marriage and settled for a while near Wellers Mills, east of Mechanicstown (later Thurmont, Md.) From there, he moved to Middletown Valley, where the first child was born. How long he remained there is not known, but he later moved to Harbaugh Valley, settling on a farm south of Zollinger, later Sabillasville. He and his wife are buried on his farm. This farm was kept by some of the descendants for several generations. His wife's name was Christine, B-1728. D-Oct. 17, 1797.

The reunion

Glad to see you dropped by, grab a cup of coffee, put your feet up and get comfy. I am trying to make this page better, easier to navigate, and add more things of interest, not only to my family, but to my friends as well. Feel free to email suggestions. If your new to the internet click on underlined words to see pictues, pages ect.

We have had a terriffic year in this branch of the Oyler Family. The blessings are many, the woes few. We have added some new members to our family, found some who were "lost", and anticipate the addition of a few more. My sister Shari taught me her pastors favorite saying, "God is rarely early.....but he is never late". Never was that as true as it has been for my family this year.

I have four kids that are all grown up. Daniel is my birth child whom I met again just a couple of weeks ago. He is 27 and a web page designer. He is married with two children, Charlie and Cooper who I hope will allow me to be their friend, and he has quickly become the child of my heart. He is sunshine and magic. His wife Sally and I are becoming fast friends. This is an amazing time getting to know him. The 2nd oldest is Dallas, 22, He is a Finance Manager for a Ford Dealer in Kalamazoo. He is a scratch golfer, a nice man, and a real joy to his mother. Jamie 21, is a stay at home mom to my grandson, Anthony James (Tony) who is three. They are the best part of getting up everyday. Then there is Stormie, she is our youngest at 20 and really quite the pistol. She is a Funding Manager. She has been working in the car business since she was 16 and plans to own one before she is 30. Their Dad, Daryl, and I have a varied and long history together. Married 19 years, divorced/separated for 2 years and back together now for 4. I am a firm believer in "if it ain't broke don't fix it" so no, as of yet no plans to remarry. Maybe one day.

My Mom Audrey, is mom to six, gramma to 16, and great gramma to 6 3/4. I will try to update you on them. Chuck is married and lives in Amarillo, Texas. He has a daughter Amy in Ohio who is planning a June wedding. His daughter Brandy lives here in Michigan and has a baby daughter, Darienne. My brother Steve died almost 20 years ago in 1980. Hi daughters Tori and Stephanie had a double wedding. Tori and husband Matt live in Huntington Beach, California. Stephanie and husband Pat have just moved back to Michigan with their baby daughter, Taylor. What a cutie she is !! Sister Char has been married 29 years to my very favorite big brother Roger. My grandson Tony says Uncle Roger can fix anything !!! They have three children. Jason got married in 1997. His wife Stephanie is expecting a baby in late November, and they recently bought a new home. The nursery is all done I am told and awaiting little Hunter or Samantha. I am counting the days till we get to hold a new baby. Daughter Erin is in cosmetology school and working hard on outdoing the legend ..... no way Erin. Joey graduated from high school in June and trying to figure out who he will be when he grows up. At the moment he is a cowboy, working on a horse farm. Twin sister Shari (Char's twin) is married to one of my other favorite men, Bruce. They have a gorgeous home on the shores of White lake. They are usually the hosts of our family gatherings. They know how to throw a Party. Their daughter Kristy got married Sept. 25th to Mike. What a beautiful Bride !!!! She works for a lawyer. Check out her house. Son Tracy is recently engaged to a wonderful girl named Shan. Although he has not asked our approval, we all love her dearly. They recently built a new home, and are planning an August wedding. Jeremy, their youngest is in the coke business (works for Coca-Cola), and is sowing his wild oats. Jeff is single, and has two daughters, Tiffany and Holly who are both in junior high. we know what that means TEENAGERS ..... YUKKKKKK !!!!! Well that's pretty much where we all are. How blessed I truly am in the abundance of people I love being close by. The blessings are many, the woes few.

FLYING OYLERS. These generations of the Oyler family made a charter flight from Akron-Canton Airport to Lima a week ago. It was the first time aloft for Mrs. C. L. Oyler (right) who is 96. But her son, Otis Oyler 72, (center) has been many times and his son, Wendell, 46, (left) is a frequent charter passenger, too. The trio looking over a model airplane at Wendell's home at 829 Pellhower ave. NW, made the Lima flight in a single-engine, five passenger Cessna flown by Kenny Little, owner-operator of McKinley Air Transport,

My Brother Steve

I grew up in a big Family. There were six kids, Chuck, Steve, twins Shari and Char, me, and Jeff. What fun it was as a little girl to have big brothers. And of course to have a younger one to pick on. When I was pregnant for my first child my brother Steve had a car accident. He was paralyzed and had head injuries. He lived for three years, and then he went off to become the angel we all believed he was.

He had two gorgeous little girls, Tori and Stephanie. They were just Babies when he was hurt. I got an invitation to their wedding today, what memories that conjured up for me. They are having a double wedding, their mother walking them down the isle to the same tune that she and my brother walked to all those years ago.

Steve was the kind of brother every little girl should have. He was 9 years older than me. He raced stock cars, played football, He was strong and smart and wonderful. Not a day goes by that I dont miss him. Saturdays he use to have all his buddies over to wash their cars and he "let me" help. I got to do the insides. Man I thought I was so lucky. And now I know I was. How wonderful to have been allowed to share in his short life.

He was a teacher and a coach when he grew up. He touched so very many lives. Now his daughters are going to be teachers, and they coach. He would of been so very proud of them, I am sure that he is as he looks down from heaven and marvels at the wonderful woman his little girls have become.

I will add to this from time to time, I have wonderful sisters and brothers, so when the spirit hits I will share some stories here. Here is my favorite picture of Steves girls.

Char

Char lives in Montague Michigan too. (Well of course they are twins!!)When I think of her a clock comes to mind cause there never is enough time to spend together. Her home is so warm and inviting, like a nice warm fire. She has three kids (all we Oyler girls do) Jason, who is now an old married man, Erin, who is way too much like her Aunt Auddie for her own good(right er-aud?), and Joey, one of the nicest young men I know. She lives in what I always describe as a dollhouse. When I was single(refered to as the good old days) I used her  and most of her household goods that my girls and I no longer had like her laundry soap, and especially her  bathtub. She is married (for 25 years!!) to the man with the golden grill. This man must of been chef Tell in his past life. He is also one of the nicest husbands, talk about a role model, well I have to tell you, if his sons are half as good a husband as their Dad.....wow. (I can be bribed to hook ya up). Char is not only my sister, I count her among my best friends. She taught me to dream big dreams, and often she is the keeper of my secrets. When I was a young girl, she and Shari were pretty great big sisters. Hey Char.....I love you too!!!!!

ter a stubborn struggle, a piece of Muskegon County history umbled to the persuasion of k equipment and came crashing to the ground Monday.

e late Otto Oyler's aircraft rol tower on Duck Lake Road demolished along with his dream of creating an active rip in Fruitland Township.

e original grass landing strip, ow taxiway No. 2 at the Bent Golf Course, and the control er sat right in the way of Ed Jean Pantyrch's planned new driving range.

The Pantyrchs, of the long-running radio show "Ed and Jean's Polka Party," recently bought the golf course.

The story of Oyler and his ort dream was spelled out in a Chronicle article after he had acted the attention of pioneers with his ambitious construction ects.

ler had left his native Hanko as a young man and made his and as a motor transport exec- e with Continental Motors , and as an entrepreneur.

s he grew older, he got the itch ate a summer home on the of his boyhood home.

e carved his airstrip and sum- house out of the 80 acres that had been in his family more than 100 years. The 50- tower, which had a flashing rcraft beacon and radio communications, was fashioned from a n silo.

a avid pilot, Oyler figured he d reduce the commute time to new Southern Colonial mansion building a 2,000-foot airstrip in back yard. No sooner was this e than his entrepreneurial ings got the best of him. Oyler ad to view his personal airstrip business opportunity.

ight Enterprises Inc. got ted in 1966 with big plans r hoped to attract light-plane ure fliers from all over and ned to building hangars and tments to accommodate .

Oyler airstrip was going to charters, light air freight t training and an air ambu- e. He even planned on leasing planes from his sizable fleet.

ight Enterprises Inc. didn't ell like Oyler had planned expansion of Muskegon County Airport in the late 1960s ended his scheme.

t Oyler proved resilient

REMINISCENSES OF THE EARLY DAYS OF TIFFIN, OHIO

By Martha M. Gibson

Short sketch of the Eyler and Creeger family. Their journey to Tiffin, O., which was then called the "Far West," with Reminiscences of Pioneer days, and subsequent growth of Tiffin since 1830.

1234 1235
Frederick and Barbara Eyler were the parents of 7523
Eve Eyler, mother of the writer of this sketch. They were pioneers in that section of Frederick Co., Maryland. Frederick Eyler entered a large tract of land which was called Eyler's Valley. That is where Eve, my mother, was born and reared. Her paternal home was nestled among the mountains now famous for Stonewall Jackson's raid during the War of the Rebellion. She was sent to a school in the village of Graceham, which was a Moravian settlement. The school was kept by a minister and wife of that denomination. They paid much attention to vocal music, and my sisters who attended were noted for their fine singing, carrying all the parts, both soprano and alto. The school rooms were in part of the church building which stood in a spacious lawn. Back of it was a never failing spring which was reached by a flight of stone steps and the cooling beverage flowed from a stone wall to a pool below. This was the only church of the village.

It was while in attendance there that Eve Eyler met John Creeger, a young storekeeper or merchant as it would now be termed. Their acquaintance resulted in marriage. She was but sixteen years of age at the time. In speaking of the event she has told me they took their wedding trip on horseback to and from the church at Graceham, six or seven miles from her home, over the mountain from Eyler's Valley where her father resided. One thing particularly mentioned of her outfit for the occasion which she wore was a gray felt hat, or fur, with gray ostrich plumes, and that it was very becoming to her. When she related this away back in 1830, or about that time we thought it very masculine, as we were accustomed see only Indian squaws wear hats, but at this date (1896) it is just the mode. Verily time changes ideas, and old styles become new.

REMINISCENSES OF THE EARLY DAYS OF TIFFIN, OHIO

By Martha M. Gibson

Short sketch of the Eyler and Creeger family. Their journey to Tiffin, O., which was then called the "Far West," with Reminiscences of Pioneer days, and subsequent growth of Tiffin since 1830.

1234 1235
Frederick and Barbara Eyler were the parents of 7823
Eve Eyler, mother of the writer of this sketch. They were pioneers in that section of Frederick Co., Maryland. Frederick Eyler entered a large tract of land which was called Eyler's Valley. That is where Eve, my mother, was born and reared. Her paternal home was nestled among the mountains now famous for Stonewall Jackson's raid during the War of the Rebellion. She was sent to a school in the village of Graceham, which was a Moravian settlement. The school was kept by a minister and wife of that denomination. They paid much attention to vocal music, and my sisters who attended were noted for their fine singing, carrying all the parts, both soprano and alto. The school rooms were in part of the church building which stood in a spacious lawn. Back of it was a never failing spring which was reached by a flight of stone steps and the cooling beverage flowed from a stone wall to a pool below. This was the only church of the village.

It was while in attendance there that Eve Eyler met John Creeger, a young storekeeper or merchant as it would now be termed. Their acquaintance resulted in marriage. She was but sixteen years of age at the time. In speaking of the event she has told me they took their wedding trip on horseback to and from the church at Graceham, six or seven miles from her home, over the mountain from Eyler's Valley where her father resided. One thing particularly mentioned of her outfit for the occasion which she wore was a gray felt hat, or fur, with gray ostrich plumes, and that it was very becoming to her. When she related this away back in 1830, or about that time we thought it very masculine, as we were accustomed see only Indian squaws wear hats, but at this date (1896) it is just the mode. Verily time changes ideas, and old styles become new.

My father was something of a musician, as I am told he played on the French horn in the Moravian band, it being their custom to visit the cemetery with band music on Easter morning, the drum and fife being omitted.

After their marriage they took up their residence in that village, and in course of time twelve children were born to them – five boys and seven girls. Nine lived to the age of manhood and womanhood. Martha Matilda, the writer of this, was the twelfth and unwelcome guest, as the older sisters wanted a boy, there then being but two living. Timothy, the oldest son, was sent to Nathereth, a Moravian College in Pa., to prepare for the ministry; came home in vacation and went into the harvest field, used the hand cradle, of which he was an expert previous to going to college, took cold from overheat, and drinking too freely of the cold mountain spring water, fell into a quick consumption, and was cut off in his young manhood.

In time, father having branched out too extensively in business ventures with stores in several villages, failed in business, having incompetent or dishonest persons in charge. Tradition has it that they were enabled to buy farms while he sustained the loss. Business complications brought on ill health, and in time he passed to the Great Beyond. Several years before father's death we had moved to the village of Mechanicstown, and there is where he died, but was buried at Graceham.

My mother, left with a large family of five girls and one son, to do for, decided to emigrate to Tiffin, where my elder sister, Theresa, was then living. My brother-in-law, Benjamin Pittenger, on one of his trips east to Baltimore, to purchase goods for the store which he and his brother kept in Tiffin, accompanied us on our overland journey, which was made in a canvas-topped, canoe shaped Pennsylvania wagon. This being long before the days of railroads, all furniture had to be sold, as nothing but bedding and a few boxes, such as could be stowed away in the wagon, could be moved.

Well do I remember our starting on the long journey. The villagers, friends of my mother and older sisters, accompanying us quite a distance, as all were on foot. As I was just between seven and eight years of age I was privileged to ride in the front part of the wagon a great part of the way. Brother walked by the team all the time. Every evening, or when it was thought best to stop or rest for the night, a halt was made at some country inn, which were about equal distances apart along the road, for the accommodation of the traveling public. Often quaint signs stood in front assuring the traveler of a welcome, and indicating some fad or taste of the landlord. Most frequently they were decorated with a horse; this hung on hinges in a square frame which was mounted upon a substantial pole. Those signs to my youthful, unartistic eye were very fine.

Then the provisions stored away for our meals were brought in, and the appetites which had been sharpened by the long walk were satiated with very little variety, but always accompanied with the ever refreshing cup of coffee. This done the bedding was brought in, and the tired bodies were refreshed by morning for the coming day's journey.

Those days all traffic was carried on over the mountains by teaming, and we often met those heavy four or six horse teams with their tinkling bells, quaint wagons, and horses decorated with those bells, which were placed in rows of four on a frame fastened on a collar crosswise of the neck. These teamsters usually went in pairs, perhaps for protection or company. These teamsters received the best attention at these hostelries, as traveling men of today. One of these teams coming in an opposite direction could be heard for quite a distance and thereby we would be warned to stop in a widened part of the road to pass and give them the right of way.

The beautiful scenery from mountain tops and lowlands were a constant delight, and young as I was I remember of enjoying the beautiful views with the older ones as they commented on it.

The first river we crossed was the Monongahela at Brownsville on the flat ferry boat, team and all at the same time. The next large one was the Ohio at Wheeling where it was bridged. The bridge formed an angle, and it seemed to me to be a mile long.

At this late date, sixty-five years in retrospection, it seems to me that when there were no particular incidents to fix it on my memory the every day occurrences are almost a blank in my recollections of this eventful journey until we arrived at the Sandusky river and Tiffin, our destination, having been two weeks on the way, and having traveled five hundred miles successively day after day, I cannot now recall how we crossed the river, there being no bridge. It may be we rode in the wagon. I just recollect seeing a good many people coming down to meet us at the foot of Market street. We went to my sister's house, which stood on the south west corner of Washington and Market streets. It was a one story and a half frame. The store was in the east room of the first floor; the west was the dwelling, consisting of living room and bedroom, the bed being curtained by high posts. The trundle bed, where the children slept, was pushed under the bed by day and hid from sight by a valence and curtains all around both. A long kitchen by the side served as a dining room also at one end, while the spacious fireplace at the other end, with its extensive hearth, had ample room for the skillets and dutch ovens with their piles of live coals under and on lids above to bake the corn pone and fry the ham and venison. There we remained until late in the summer, as no house could be procured.

The Indians would come to town almost every day to trade, bringing ginseng and cranberries.

The squaws would wear high hats like the men, with blankets around them and rode astride their ponies, their hair hanging straight from their heads.

There were two tribes – Wyandots at Upper Sandusky and the Senecas north toward Lower Sandusky. The latter left that fall (1831) for their reservation given them by the Government in exchange for their land here. It was in Missouri, northwest of Arkansas. They camped a few days preparatory to leaving on the west side of the river, along where Sandusky St. is now. It was all woods along there then.

Col. Henry Brish, resident Indian agent, went with them to their new home. Part of them went by water after reaching the Ohio river, and a part preferred to travel by land and experienced many hardships, finally reaching their new home by the next July, losing so many of their number by death. So says Butterfield's History.

The Wyandots near Upper Sandusky were still on their reservation and brought cranberries to town. They had a Mission Church and regular services, and held camp meetings. William Walker, a half breed, was at that time their chief. He was finely educated and married a white lady who was a member of the M.E. Church, they having established a Mission there. They had two daughters, one a blond with light hair and complexion like her mother, but with marked Indian features. The other had dark hair and loved to ride the Indian ponies. They lived in a nice house in the village and in comfortable style. My sister, Louisa, having the reputation of being the best and really the only milliner in Tiffin at that time, Mr. and Mrs. Walker had their eldest daughter come and stay in our family to learn the business and perhaps to improve her otherwise.

I attended one of their Indian camp meetings, and stayed at their house over night. I remember seeing the old men sitting at the rear of their board tents, fixed up with silver bands on their arms and rings of the same in their ears. The singing of the congregation seemed very plaintive. I saw there one of the Armstrongs, a quarter breed Indian. He was very fine looking and was married to the daughter of Rev. Russell Bigelow, at one time a missionary among them.

This tribe soon after (which might have been about 1841 or 1842) left after selling to the Government, and went to Kansas to a new reservation. One squaw, whom they called Mother Solomon, remained behind as she could not give up the home so sacred to her memory. (Her husband returned and stayed until he died.) It was said she helped to gather fagots at the burning of Gen. Crawford by the Indians. She was very much averse to talking about it I am told. She was present at the Pioneer and Fiftieth Anniversary which was held at the home of Dr. Brinkerhoff, at Upper Sandusky in 1884. She was then said to be over ninety years of age. She has since passed on to meet those whose memory she clung to in life and whose resting place on the old hunting grounds she would not leave. She did not look near that age. Yet it was a very pathetic sentiment in as uncultivated a nature as hers.

Returning to 1831. My mother rented a little one story, one room house, which stood on the corner of the lot now occupied by the electric light works. We had two beds. I was put at the foot or in the middle as it suited. Brother worked in the country at his trade as a carpenter. Mother baked her bread in a dutch oven on the hearth, and raised the loaves in bread baskets, made of thick ropes of straw bound together, and round in the shape to fit the oven. A cloth was laid in and then lapped over the dough; then to keep the temperature even, the baskets were tucked between the blankets of the bed. It took one hour to bake with live coals on top and underneath the lid. The oven had legs or feet, to keep it from or above the coals. A year later mother bought a lot on Washington street, and among the first things she did after the lot was purchased and the house built, was to have constructed an outside brick oven for baking bread. When it was to be done a rousing fire was built in it of long sticks, and then let to die down and spread the embers evenly until they cooled off. Then they were drawn off by a wooden rake or hoe, and a mop rag fastened to a long handle and dipped in cold water and brushed over the bottom until it was the right temperature; then the bread turned on a flat wooden shovel and shoved on the bare brick floor. When the oven was full a board was set up at the opening until the bread was done. These ovens were indispensable in many large families, especially in the country where fruit was to be dried. Sometimes families would put a roast in them before going to Church, and returning find the dinner cooked.

The opening fireplace in the kitchen department of those days was usually very spacious and the hearth extended two or three feet out into the room. Several lengths of chains were suspended from a rod high up in the chimney, having adjustable hooks to hold the pots and kettles over the fire. The iron crane was a later invention. It could be turned out from the heat, and several pots hung from it by hooks as low or high as was wanted, and then swung back over the fire. Later a patent reflector was introduced. It was of tin with a hood flaring to the fire to catch the heat, while the bread was on a pan near the back. Next came the cooking stove, which has been the greatest blessing to woman that has ever been invented, and I think the man who invented it deserves a monument. It must have been about 1838 that my mother procured one.

I find that in looking back to Tiffin as it was in 1831 and 1832 I can recall very much of the topography of the country and situation of the buildings, also the growth of the town as I have always lived here.

We were waked up Sunday morning about 4 o'clock and got our breakfast which consisted of one cracker and a cup of coffee. Then we got another cracker to last us until we could get to Lexington, distance 30 miles. It was raining pitchforks. We got ready and got started at six and got through to our camp at Lexington at seven o'clock at night. Our feet were all blistered and we were most starved and was about as tired as we could be. We done about the best marching ever known in Kentucky. My feet after the march was very bad. The bottoms of them were covered with one blister on each foot. We had one days rest after the march to recruit up in again. The hard stone pikes in Kentucky are hard on a fellow's feet when he has a load to carry.

I never felt so bad in my life as I did when I got in camp and heard of the death of Mark who had died 6 days before, and I had no chance of seeing him. I did not sleep a bit that night. If I would have had money enough. I would have sent Mark's body home, but I did not have money enough. I should have liked to have had him buried in the grave yard where mother and sisters Mary and Elizabeth were buried so as I could go and visit the graves if I ever return.

But I don't think Father thinks much of us or he would have come here and took Mark home, but it is too late now for he is buried. They kept him in the vault ten days, and I was in hopes father would come or send somebody and take care of things. The doctors told me before we left that he was in no danger. They said he was getting well fast, or I never would have left.

Let me know in your next letter if you want any postage stamps or money, and I will send them to you as I have plenty of both just now. I am well and hearty and able for any thing. LaRue boys are well and send their best respects to you. I received a letter from Aunt Mary Ann a few days ago. They are all well and I got one also from Phoebe Jane. The folks are all well there.

I believe I am going to get my likeness taken some of these days and send it to you. I have no more to write at present, so good bye from your brother.

OBITUARY

Puffenberger

John Puffenberger, who resided near Mt. Gilead church, in Liberty township, died quite suddenly Wednesday morning, aged about 79 years. At his usual time of rising in the morning he complained of being cold, and concluded to stay in bed, and about a half hour afterward was found dead. He was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Shaull, of this city, now deceased. To this union were born three sons, Henry, Douglas and James, and three daughters, Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. Solomon Shrodes, of this city, and Rebecca of Michigan. He leaves two brothers, Adam and Henry of this city, and one sister, Mrs. David Shaull. Funeral at Mt. Gilead church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock; interment in the Mull cemetery.

Yambert

Arthur Yambert, a well-known young farmer who resides on the Base Line, near McCutchenville, died quite suddenly Wednesday evening. The deceased was afflicted with lung trouble. He and his wife and child spent last winter in California, and while there the child died. Funeral services at the house Friday afternoon; interment in the Bethel cemetery.

Morris

Mrs. Susan Morris died at her late home, one and one-half miles south of Bascom, Thursday morning, aged 70 years. Just one week before she fell to the floor, breaking her hip. She refused to summon medical aid until the following Monday, when physicians were called in to treat the injury. She never rallied from the shock. Funeral at Bascom Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Gust

Relatives in Fostoria have received the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lears-Gust, who died at her home in Pacific Grove Cal., Saturday, Sept 13, after a long illness of a nervous affliction. Mrs. Gust was born Sept. 23, 1833, near Tiffin, and was educated at Heidelberg college. When 24 years of age she married the late Romanus Gust, of Fremont. After several years residence in that city they removed to Fostoria, where she lived until her removal to California, about 10 months since. She was a member of the Methodist church for almost half a century.
